MATTERS IN RELATION TO WITHHOLDING AND PAYMENT OF INCOME TAX

1. For holders of H shares (except for the H Share shareholders of the Southbound Trading)

According to the Law on Corporate Income Tax of the People's Republic of China and its implementing rules which came into effect on January 1, 2008 and the "Notice of the Issues concerning Withholding the Enterprise Income Tax on the Dividend Paid by Chinese Resident Enterprises to H Share Holders Which are Overseas non-resident Enterprises" issued by the State Administration of Taxation on 6 November 2008, the Company is required to withhold corporate income tax at the rate of 10% before distributing dividends to non-resident enterprise shareholders whose names appear on the register of members of H share of the Company. Any H shares registered in the name of non-individual registered shareholders, including HKSCC Nominees Limited, other nominees, trustees or other groups and organisations will be treated as being held by non-resident enterprise shareholders and therefore will be subject to the withholding of the corporate income tax. Should any holder of H shares wish to change their shareholder status, please consult their agent or trust institution over the relevant procedures. The Company will withhold payment of the corporate income tax strictly in accordance with the relevant laws or requirements of the relevant governmental departments and strictly based on what has been registered on the Company's H share register of members at the close of business on 14 June 2018. However, the Company has no obligation to withhold and pay such enterprise income tax when distributing final dividends to the resident enterprise shareholders whose names appear in the register of holders of H Shares on the record date. A resident enterprise (with the same meaning as defined in the Tax Laws) which is incorporated in the PRC or is incorporated under the law of a foreign country (or region) with its de facto management organisation located within the PRC should submit to the H share registrar of the Company, Computershare Hong Kong Investors Services Limited, at or before 4:30 p.m. on the record date a legal opinion (stamped with the chop of the law firm) issued by a qualified PRC practicing lawyer ascertaining its resident enterprise status. Otherwise, the Company will not be held responsible for disputes in relation to withholding and payment of enterprise income tax arising from the shareholder's failure to submit the legal opinion within the prescribed period.

According to the regulation promulgated by the State General Administration of Taxation of the PRC (Guo Shui Han [2011] No.348), the Company is required to withhold and pay the individual income tax for its individual H share holders and the individual H share holders are entitled to certain tax preferential treatments according to the tax agreements between those countries where the individual H share holders are residents and China and the provisions in respect of tax arrangements between the mainland China and Hong Kong (Macau). The Company would withhold and pay the individual income tax at the tax rates of 10% on behalf of the individual H share holders who are Hong Kong residents, Macau residents or residents of those countries having agreements with China for personal income tax rates in respect of dividend of 10%. For individual H share holders who are residents of those countries having agreements with China for personal income tax rates in respect of dividend of lower than 10%, the Company would withhold and pay the individual income tax at the tax rates of 10% on behalf of them. According to the requirements of the Notice of the State Administration of Taxation in relation to the Administrative Measures (Tentative) on Preferential Treatment Entitled by Non-residents (Guo Shui Fa [2009] No.124) and the Guoshuihan [2011] No. 348 documents, once the individual shareholders have submitted applications and the relevant materials, the withholding agent would make applications on their behalf to seek entitlement of the relevant agreed preferential treatments pursuant to the Notice, and upon approval by the tax authorities, over withheld tax amounts will be refunded. For individual H share holders who are residents of those countries having agreements with China for personal income tax rates in respect of dividend of higher than 10% but lower than 20%, the Company would withhold the individual income tax at the agreed-upon effective tax rate. For individual H share holders who are residents of those countries without any taxation agreements with China or having agreements with China for personal income tax in respect of dividend of 20% and other situations, the Company would withhold the individual income tax at a tax rate of 20%. The Company will determine the country of domicile of the individual H share holders based on the registered address as recorded in the register of members of the Company (hereinafter referred to as the “Registered Address”) at the close of business on 14 June 2018 and will accordingly withhold and pay the individual income tax. If the country of domicile of the individual H share holder is not the same as the Registered Address, the individual H share holder shall notify the H share registrar of the Company and provide relevant supporting documents on or before 4:30 p.m., 14 June 2018. The contact details are as follows: Computershare Hong Kong Investor Services Limited, Room 1712-1716, 17th Floor, Hopewell Centre, 183 Queen’s Road East, Wanchai, Hong Kong. If the individual H share holders do not provide the relevant supporting documents to the share registrar of the Company’s H Shares within the time period stated above, the Company will determine the country of domicile of the individual H share holders based on the recorded Registered Address on 14 June 2018. The Company assumes no liability whatsoever in respect of any claims arising from any delay in, or inaccurate determination of, the status of the shareholders of the Company or any disputes over the withholding and payment of tax.
